Recent Petitions Still Under Study

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

The City Council did not take any action on the petition presented two weeks ago asking the removal of the Sedalia Board of Public Works. However, the crowd of over 100 persons were informed by Mayor Abe Silverman the Council has reviewed the petitions at length.

Mayor Silverman told the audience in the Council chamber that due to the absence of members of the Board a meeting was delayed. He stated after the Council had reviewed the petitions, the members decided they should have a joint meeting with the Board. "I learned today that all members of the Board are now back in the City and a meeting will be arranged," Silverman said.

"It is encouraging to see so many interested persons present at the council meeting, we should have more. Actually Sedalians should take more interest in the Council proceedings and attend the meetings. It is a good healthy condition to see this crowd and I like it," Mayor Silverman concluded.

Councilman E. Glenn Lewis, chairman of the Street and Alley committee, reported to the Council a street program which will be undertaken by the Twelve Mile Road District, if at all possible this summer.

To top with a road mix asphalt mat coat Sixteenth Street from Grand avenue to Ohio; Engineer avenue from Fifth street to the railroad tracks. Asphalt seal coat Third street from Beacon avenue east to Hancock, 21 blocks; Osage avenue from Pacific street north to U. S. Highway 65; State Fair Blvd., from Third street to Sixteenth street, both lanes. To grade and gravel New York avenue from Sixteenth street south to Twenty-Fourth street, which includes widening of the street. This street is along the east side of the new Centennial Park; Driftwood from Greenwood to Clinton Road, one block, this giving an outlet from the Country Club Addition to the east. Also to construct a low-water crossing on Twenty-Fourth just west of New York, along the south side of the new park.

The Council gave unanimous approval to the report and referred it to the Twelve Mile Road District Commissioners.

The law firm of Lamm and Barnett is to be retained as Special Counsel to assist City Counselor Jack McCloskey in the suit of Joseph J. Jeuchter, dba Traffic Associates against the City of Sedalia. The Council passed a resolution authorizing Mayor Silverman to retain the firm.

The suit is for fees which the plaintiff claims are owed to him (Please turn to page 2, column 2)

Nikita to Meet With Thompson On Wednesday

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev today invited U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to meet him in Siberia Wednesday to deliver a personal message from President Kennedy.

Embassy sources said Thompson will fly to Siberia Wednesday but declined to disclose his exact destination.

It is assumed he will meet the Soviet premier in Novosibirsk for exploratory talks on improving Soviet-American relations. This is where Khrushchev has been busy with an agricultural meeting. It is the same town that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon toured two years ago.

Scattered Buildings Tell Tale of Twister's Power

Damage Is Estimated At $200,000

Family of Four Escapes Injury; Many Boats Sunk

Boat and dock owners and spectators flocked to Gravois Arm on Lake of the Ozarks today in the furious wake of a tornado that struck the area Sunday night. Some were there to survey damages by the storm, some began clean-up operations and others were there to view the costly damages.

Telephone lines were still out at noon Tuesday in the damaged area.

"I'm estimating my own loss at $100,000 and the loss to my customers at $100,000," said Charles Page, owner of the boatyard, one of the largest on the lake. "I have only about $20,000 worth of insurance."

Page's living quarters, on the second floor of a two story building, were wrecked. Five boat storage buildings were destroyed.

Page said 10 or 15 boats were torn out of one building and sunk or lost on the lake. About 25 boats were damaged in another shed, and 50 boat docks and wells were destroyed.

Most of the boats were owned by Kansas Citians. Some cabin cruisers were valued up to $30,000.

Among the boats reported damaged by the tornado were two belonging to Sedalians. One is the property of John J. McGrath, 1500 West Fifth, and the other belongs to Dr. Floyd Lively, 1300 West Fourth.

Contacted on Monday evening, after he had made a trip to the lake to view the effects of the storm, McGrath said that he estimated that there was anywhere from $500 to $1,000 damage to his $7,000 boat. He said that he was unable to completely survey the damage, but that a first examination showed that the windshield and flying bridge were smashed. (Please turn to page 2 column 6)

WRECKAGE—Buildings, boats and trees bowled to the power of a tornado that struck late Sunday night at Page's Boat Dock on the Gravois arm of the Lake of the Ozarks. An estimated $200,000 in damages resulted. Some of the boats were owned by Sedalians. Shown above are some of the boats stored in a building that disappeared in the storm. Boats stored in the building (left) were undamaged. (Aerial photo by Bob Smith, Bill's Camera Shop).

In Civil Rights Field

Discrimination End Move Is Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy—in his first action in the civil rights field—has moved to end job discrimination by the government and companies having federal contracts.

His executive order may be the first of a number of steps in this field.

Kennedy told a news conference last week the administration was making a study "of where the federal government might justifiably place its power and influence to expand civil rights."

One step under consideration, he said, was an order to withhold federal funds from schools that discriminate against pupils on the grounds of race, religion or national origin.

The order Monday night—effective in 30 days—consolidated two existing government committees into a single President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy's order provides stiff penalties for violations, including possible cancellation of government contracts. It also calls for an exhaustive survey of government hiring and firing practices.

Administration officials say the order is the strongest issued by any president in the field of job discrimination. They say it both provides new sanctions against discrimination and makes it possible to use old powers more effectively.

Tug of War

March may have come in like a lamb but the lion is apparently crowding the lamb out of the picture.

Showers and thundershowers continuing tonight; warmer tonight with the low in the upper 40s or low 50s; clearing with pleasant temperatures Wednesday, high in the 50s.

The temperature Tuesday was 34 at 7 a.m. and 47 at 1 p.m. Low Monday night was 33, with .04 inches of rainfall.

The temperature one year ago today was, high 30; low 18; two years ago, high 49; low 22; three years ago, high 43; low 35.

Lake of Ozarks stage: 55.7 feet; 4.3 below full reservoir; down .3.

Suspect In Arson Attempt

Turns Himself In to Police In Kansas City

RALPH MESSINA, a long-sought mystery man in the Gordon Building arson attempt, was arrested in Kansas City Monday. He has been released on $3,500 bond to appear in Magistrate Court here March 23.

Plans to take advantage of Ralph Messina's reported offer to "appear before anyone" to prove his innocence in the Gordon Building case are being made, and local peace officers hope to conduct the appearance sometime this week.

Messina was arrested in Kansas City Monday afternoon on a Pettis County warrant charging him with attempted arson of the Gordon Building Feb. 12. He gave himself up at the Jackson County Sheriff's office, stating he had heard officials were looking for him.

The suspect has been identified from photos as the mysterious Abe Rosen, who rented the offices in the building where several cartons of gasoline were found Feb. 12.

After he was arrested Monday, Messina was taken to the Jackson County jail, fingerprinted and then taken to magistrate court. A plea of innocent was entered on his behalf and he was released on $3,500 bond, returnable on his appearance in Sedalia Monday.

Messina said he was eager to go with his attorney to Sedalia to face witnesses who have identified him, to prove that he is not Abe Rosen, and would be glad to appear before anyone.

The arrest of Messina does not conclude the investigation, Fairfax said. Officials indicated a third man has been implicated and a warrant for his arrest has been issued.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Police Chief Ralph Hamlin were in Kansas City Monday, but did not talk to the suspect. They had the warrant for Messina's arrest sworn out last week. Messina is the second man to be arrested in the case.

The first man to be arrested in the case, Frank John Amaro, alias Johnny Green, who also gave himself up in Kansas City, will face preliminary hearing in Sedalia March 23.

Messina had been identified as the man who, under the name of Abe Rosen, rented office space in the Gordon Building late in November. A padlock was placed on the office doors. He later changed offices, this time taking the four rooms, and again the offices were padlocked. Rosen, or Messina, (Please turn to page 2, column 4)

Peace Corps Won't Lose Deferments

Those Who Serve May Get Additional Service Deferments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Draft-age young men who have military deferments won't lose them by serving in the Peace Corps.

This is the opinion of Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, head of selective service. Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver, told a news conference Monday it was Hershey's judgment that one who served in the corps for two years would be eligible for further deferment from military service.

Shriver said no exemptions from military service for peace corpsmen had been proposed and none had been requested.

Of course, Shriver said, a young man couldn't return to the United States from Peace Corps service, become a beachcomber and expect to get deferment. And, he added, those who were deferred always would be subject to general mobilization, if it came.

Most college students and young men in certain special vocations get deferments from the draft.

Shriver said the corps was anxious that after service abroad members of the corps would have good job prospects. He named four men to a corps career planning board to help develop job opportunities.

They are Ralph Lazarus, Cincinnati department store executive; Joseph Bieme, AFL-CIO vice president and president of the Communications Workers of America; Roger Jones, assistant secretary of state for administration and former chairman of the Civil Service Commission, and Dr. Benjamin C. Willis, general superintendent of schools of Chicago.

Director Tells City Council

Storm Warnings to Come From Civil Defense Sirens

Fred H. Bennett, director of Civil Defense for Pettis County, appeared before the City Council Monday night, and gave a report on the activities of the organization, and an accounting of funds spent.

Bennett informed the council that portions of funds spent would be returned to the City through matching funds for which requests have already been made by his office.

In his report Bennett brought out the use of the warning signals in case of a storm or an attack. Explaining the procedure, Bennett said all sirens have been checked and are in readiness for any necessary alarm.

He told the council sound tests were not made due to the excitement created previously during a test. "The police telephones were jammed by calls when the sound test was made, in spite of the many news stories put out over radio, television and through the newspapers not to call the police and the sounding of the sirens would be for test purposes only. "If the sirens are now heard, it's not for play," Bennett said.

"It's for real. It will mean either a severe storm approaching or an attack, and will mean to find cover."

He explained the people are NOT TO CALL THE POLICE as it only will cause a jam of the telephone office and calls probably wouldn't get answered anyway. "If and when you hear the sirens, turn on your radio to the local radio and television stations and learn what to expect. The police and newspapers will be far too busy to answer telephone calls and you are requested, DO NOT USE YOUR TELEPHONE. In case of a weather warning the sirens will sound steady for five minute intervals. In case of an attack they will be heard to have a rise and fall sound and will continue to be sounded," he reported.

Bennett also informed the Council Sedalia's weather net covers a 75-mile area.

Work Gets Underway On New Post Office

Work has begun on the new post office in LaMonte located on the corner of Olive and Main streets.

The building is being built by Earl Horton of Sedalia. Horton is a mail carrier at the Post Office.

The property was purchased by Horton from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murray. The building will be one story and approximately 26 by 48 feet with parking area to the south and east of the building.

Work is expected to be completed by June 1.

Juvenile Code Secrecy Bill Loses In House

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A House committee killed Monday night a bill that would have removed secrecy features of the 1957 juvenile code. A crowded hearing lasted more than two hours but the committee took only a few minutes to kill the bill.

H. Lang Rogers, editor of the Joplin Globe, said the code has proved unworkable and does not protect juveniles.

Magistrate Judge Edison Kaderly of Lamar said juveniles hide behind the secrecy provision, daring officers to arrest them.

E. L. McClung Elected To Rotary Helm

Elmer L. McClung

Elmer L. McClung, 2903 South-west Blvd., manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, was elected president of the Rotary Club Monday noon, at the meeting of that organization at Bothwell Hotel.

Other officers elected were: Keith Yount, vice-president; H. P. Siefert, treasurer; John E. (Bud) Brown, secretary; Eugene E. Cook, Charles Edwards, Jesse L. Summers and Carl Oswald, directors. The new officers take over their duties July 1.

The meeting was presided over by Jess Brown, president, and invocation was by Oscar DeWolf. Fred Brink led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano. Wendell Lawrence was program chairman.

Visitors introduced by Charles Edwards were Jim Goodrich guest of his father, Martin G. Goodrich, Tom Leslie and Charles Hoffman, student guests.

The program planned for the Rotary Conference of District 607 to be held at the School of the Ozarks, Point Lookout, was explained by Lawrence Barnett.

A letter was read from George Melhaven, head of Rotary Foundation of Rotary International, congratulating the Sedalia Club for becoming 200 per cent.

Roving Rotarians were Floyd Priddy to Warrensburg and O. W. Wiley to Clinton.

Ten File For City Nominations

Deadline for filing for City Councilmen in the various wards is 5 o'clock today and at the present time nine persons have filed seeking nominations at the primary election to be held on Tuesday, March 21.

Only two Republicans have filed for nominations, Jack Cunningham, 1605 West 16th, incumbent who seeks re-election in the Fourth Ward, and Cleo M. Cecil, 1314 East 13th, seeking the Third Ward nomination.

Among Democrats to file are: First Ward, Councilman Earl Paxton, A. B. Warren, filed by Bill Cough, and Harry Burford who seek nomination; 2nd Ward, Councilman Woodrow Garrison is opposed by George "Bud" Bryant, and Third Ward, Lawrence Koeller and Lawrence Randall seek the nomination. Councilman Pat Clark has not filed as yet. Fourth Ward, Harvey C. Herrick, 1216 West 11th, seeks the Democratic nomination.

City Clerk Ralph Dedrick anticipates some late filings for the nominations today.

The City election is scheduled for Tuesday, April 4. The only city officers to be elected this year are the four Councilmen.

High Wind Turns 16-Foot Boat Over

High winds during Sunday night's thundershowers picked a 16-foot boat off its trailer and turned it over at the John DeJarnette residence, 3131 South Washington. Mrs. DeJarnette told the Democrat-Capital it was one of the strangest things she had ever seen. The boat was tied to the trailer's winch and was blown off without upsetting the trailer.

in connection with the engineering of the St. Francis parking lot, and for plans to make a "double" decker parking lot there.

A petition was approved by the Council in which Kenneth Steele, 1320 South Murray, requested curb and guttering on Garfield. The curb will run 130 feet south from Tenth on the east side of the street.

Three bids for gravel were presented and opened at the Council meeting, they being C. C. Cover $1.96 per cubic yard, Vencil Bishop $1.93 per cubic yard and S. H. Bishop $2.50 per cubic yard. The bids were referred to the Street and Alley Committee for study.

Councilman E. Glenn Lewis announced work on the Washington Street viaduct is near completion. The repairs, Glenn told the Council amounted to less than $1,700 for materials, not counting the labor furnished by the Street and Alley Department, or a little less than the original $2,500 estimated needed for the repairs.

Council E. B. Smith, Finance and Taxes, announced a budget meeting with the Park Board for their 1961-62 budget, and asked for a meeting with the Airport Board for their budget.

An ordinance changing the zoning of lots 3, 4, and 5, 13 through 19 in block 3, Dundee Place from R-1 to R-2 was passed. The change was approved by the Zoning and Planning Commission.

The following liquor licenses were approved: five-percent beer to Orvis Crouch, 724 West Sixteenth; liquor by the drink to Leslie Webb for 109 West Second; package liquor to Ramsey Beverage House, 914 South Limit; and package liquor for the Sedalia Drug Co.

Councilman Roberts presented two petitions. The first was condemning the deplorable condition of Stewart avenue at 10th street whenever heavy rains fall causing mud and debris to pile up there. In the discussion, Councilman Lewis announced some ditches would be cut to give better drainage.

A. G. Portis, 1109 West 10th, protested digging the ditch in front of his home any deeper, saying it would cause his home to be surrounded by water. Clifford Hoover, 1105 West 10th, also asked for a better solution. The matter was then referred to the Street and Alley Department and the City Engineer by Mayor Silverman.

Residents on Twentieth Street from Grand to Stewart presented a petition through Councilman Roberts asking for curb and guttering along Twentieth and for the street to be paved with a mat coat. The petition was approved and referred to the Street and Alley Department and the City Engineer.

Lewis then took the floor and congratulated the residents on Twentieth Street for taking the initiative to go ahead with this improvement while other citizens turned down a plan presented by the Council.

Department bills approved for payment were: Lights and Gas $7,228.06; Fire and Water $195.50; General and Administrative $942.68; Public Buildings $153.47; Airport $196.12; Sewer and Sanitation $892.56; Streets and Alleys $793.96; Police $1,773.28 or a total of $12,175.63.

Officers reports approved were: Ralph Carrel, license inspector, $1.00; L. W. Dickman building inspector $127.00 and electrical inspector $90.05; Luther Wright plumbing permits $65.00, street cut permits $79.50; Charles Simon, weighmaster, $83.75; Ralph Hamlin, police fines, $2,155.00; Mary Kay English, library fines $107.00; Paul Alpert city collector, $17,577.23. A total of $20,285.53 in collections.

STORM DAMAGE—Scattered wreckage marks the path of a tornado that hit Page's Boat Dock on the Gravois Arm of the Lake of the Ozarks Sunday night. An estimated 100 boats, in addition to the docks and buildings, were

Country Club Elects Officers

Officers and directors of the Sedalia Country Club elected at the annual meeting Monday night were as follows:

President, Richard Dean succeeding William A. Schien; Vice-President, Maurice Griffin succeeding Leon Archias; Treasurer, H. W. Harris succeeding Maurice Griffin; and Secretary, Dr. Robert Enoch, re-elected.

H. W. Harris and Keith Yount were elected new directors, and Damon Hieronymus and William Schien were re-elected. Other members of the board are: Leon Archias, Dr. Floyd Lively, Maurice Griffin, Richard Dean, John Martin, Victor Scott, E. W. Meneff, and Dr. Robert Enoch.

Washington Parent, Family Class Meets

The second Washington Parent and Family Life Class of the year met in the school cafeteria with 14 members and several children present.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Loyd Abney, chairman. Mrs. William O. Hlatt, Jr., gave the devotion. She also read a poem "The Scouter's Dilemma."

A motion was made and carried that a dinner be given for the teachers. The tentative date has been set for May 4 at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. It will be a co-operative basket dinner.

Mrs. Camilla Wilson, Children's librarian, gave an interesting talk on "What Books Mean to Children." She said girls most commonly call for books of fairy tales or stories of horses and boys ask for space stories. She advises wider reading categories for children. She has organized a reading club and one of the requirements is each member read eight books each on a different subject.

The next meeting will be March 24.

Mrs. Taylor Given Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Lue Taylor, 1216 East 14th, celebrated her 80th birthday on Thursday. Her daughter, Mrs. L. V. Croy entertained with a dinner in her home Sunday.

Those present were grandchildren, Mrs. Ray Masek, Gordon and Gary Ray, Whiteman AFB, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Whitfield, Steve, Susan and Kim, Boonville, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Whitfield, Jody and Rodney and Mr. and Mrs. William Bodine, Tommie, Shelly and Terry, Sedalia.

Also present were, Mrs. Mae Speaker, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Harkless and Mr. and Mrs. Croy. Her other daughter, Mrs. Geo. Hewitt, Concordia, was unable to be present.

The honoree received many lovely and useful gifts and cards.

sina, paid his rent in person, but few people recalled seeing him.

August Gordon, who manages the building for his wife, said he saw Rosen, but only briefly.

Messina, whose police record shows 15 arrests, had been twice charged in arson cases.

During more than eight years of legal maneuvering he successfully fought extradition to Wichita, Kan. After a blast and a fire at a Wichita cleaning establishment in January, 1931, witnesses identified Messina as the man seen running from the scene. A partly burned coat bearing his name on a tag inside, was found nearby.

Kansas authorities tried intermittently from 1931 to 1939 to return Messina to Wichita.

Legal rulings in Messina's favor held that the extradition papers filed originally were defective. A warrant for Messina is still outstanding. There is no statute of limitations on warrants having fugitive status.

Messina was one of three men charged with arson after a flash fire erupted at a drive-in market in December, 1935. Police said charges against him were dropped after a witness who had originally identified Messina as being at the scene withdrew as a state witness. The two other men were convicted of arson and sentenced to prison, but their convictions later were reversed by the Missouri Supreme Court.

On Feb. 12, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford, who rent offices in the building, were moving to new offices when Mrs. Crawford saw what she thought was water, seeping from the ceiling of the new office. Investigation proved it was gasoline, and police and firemen were called.

Authorities found several cartons of gasoline and a lighted fuse. The cartons were lined with plastic material and the fuse led to one of the opened cartons.

Later, after the investigation began, Amaro walked into the Kansas City police station and gave himself up, stating, like Messina, that he had heard the police were looking for him.

All that she could determine was missing was $2.25 from a cigar box. There was $2.30 left in the same box, which leads police to believe that the boys were probably quite young.

LONDON (AP)—Seven doctors held an urgent conference today at the bedside of Elizabeth Taylor and a friend said later "there's still hope."

The doctors made no statement on emerging from the room where the beautiful 29-year-old film star is fighting for her life against double pneumonia.

"While her condition is still very critical, there's no reason at the moment for any fresh despondency," said the friend, Suzanne Cardozo.

"The doctors believe she's maintaining at least a little of the improvement she showed this morning."

Queen Elizabeth's physician, Lord Evans, attended the doctors' conference. He arrived at Miss Taylor's hospital, the London Clinic, shortly before the star's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Taylor. Their expressions reflected the gravity of their daughter's condition.

At one point, Miss Taylor roused from a coma and whispered: "I want my mother."

Mrs. Taylor, the former American actress Sara Sothorn, was in the room but Miss Taylor apparently did not recognize her.

Police Reports

Mrs. W. M. Kabler, 1006 East Sixth, reported Tuesday she has lost her light brown Chihuahua, weight about 5 1/2 pounds, in the vicinity of Sixth and Brown. She has promised a reward to the finder.

The Anderson Heating and Air Conditioning Co. reported Tuesday morning that someone had broken into the plant and taken about $8 in cash. Police investigated and reported that there was no evidence, and that the thief had either been locked in the shop and sawed the lock off the office door, or had a key to the shop.

Richard D. Green, Dean Construction Company, reported to police Monday that a thief or thieves had taken some equipment from the company's storage building at the State Fair Grounds. Among the items missing are a miter box valued at $75, 2 two inch bits, a brushed aluminum passage set and a brushed aluminum bathroom set. He said he believed the items were taken sometime between 3 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Monday.

Morgan County Pupils to Get A Hearing Test

Training in the use of the audiometer, a hearing testing device, was given Mrs. Helen Bolton, Morgan County health nurse, Friday at Versailles, by a consultant from the Division of Health at Jefferson City.

The preparation is for a hearing testing program—the next project of the county's nurse.

The audiometer is loaned to counties by the Division of Health and is a portable unit, easily taken to each school and set up in a quiet room for the tests. Pupils will be screened for hearing ability and if a loss of hearing is detected the child will later receive a more thorough examination and the child referred to a physician or clinic of the patient's choice.

Nurse Bolton said it is the hope of the program to find those children with impaired hearing in order to help them with their education. Children with impaired hearing are often erroneously believed to be mentally retarded when hearing is their only fault, the nurse pointed out.

To meet this two-division requirement and that of their support troops—80,000 men in all—the Pentagon study estimated slightly more than 1,000 transport aircraft would be necessary plus 26 troop transports and assorted support vessels.

The United States now has about 450 transport aircraft available for strategic airlift while the Navy has only 11 troop transports on active sea routes.

While the shortage of aircraft has been fairly well publicized, almost nothing has been known of the Navy's plight.

The stark picture of the Navy situation began to unfold shortly after the State Department disclosed Monday that a Navy task force on a good-will mission to South Africa had been ordered to stand off the Congo coastline.

The task force, carrying 500 Marines, was directed to proceed toward the Congolese port of Matadi which was seized by Congolese troops Sunday after a sharp battle with United Nations forces.

Within hours after the State Department disclosure Adm. Robert L. Dennison, Atlantic Fleet commander, said in Norfolk, Va., that his force was incapable of carrying its full Marine expeditionary force.

His comments apparently meant that his Atlantic Fleet would have a tough time meeting

Decisive Democracy Fights Could Be Decided in Peru

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan is on a tour of Latin America to appraise the inroads of communism and Castroism, together with current feeling toward the United States. In previous reports over the last six weeks he has reported on Venezuela, Brazil, Argentina and Chile. Today he writes of the situation in Peru.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
LIMA, Peru (AP)—A struggle between democracy and dictatorship is going on in much of South America. Decisive battles in this struggle can be won or lost in Peru.

Some signs are hopeful. Among others, U. S. business representatives indicate rising confidence that Peru's conservative-minded government can check the combined drive of Castroism and communism.

There are several big ifs. The if of self-reform at the top of Peru's social-economic ladder is not the least of these.

Prime Minister Pedro Beltran has attacked forcefully some of Peru's major problems and has impressed many a North American. As a result, there are strong indications that U. S. investments, now at about $800-million mark, will be stepped up.

One source reports the climate for investment seems better in Peru than in most other American countries, despite pressure from the left and the weight of many a social and economic problem yet to be attacked.

There is stormy weather ahead in Peru's politics. If the government rides it out, constitutional forces will have won an important battle. But win or lose, more than Peru's future alone is at stake.

Beltran is a former ambassador to the United States, publisher of the influential newspaper La Prensa, an economist, banker and member of an old land-owning family. He has filled his Cabinet with young, dedicated men without any apparent axes of their own to grind. Their goal is political and economic stability and stimulated production.

If they fail, Peru may revert to the sort of military dictatorship it had in 1948-56, or it may be driven far to the political left. One way or the other, the cause of political sanity in Latin America would feel the impact.

Beltran adopted unpopular measures, made them stick, created confidence in his government. He froze wages but not prices; eliminated certain subsidies to producers, allowed a rise in oil prices which had been among the world's lowest, called a halt to indiscriminate borrowing, headed the nation toward a free economy. The sol, Peru's currency, is strong. Prices are high but stable. Exports are up.

After documentary proof was provided of the Communist-Castroist plotting, Beltran last December threw out Cuba's diplomats and agents, broke relations with Havana, and crippled the extremists' operation.

All this had its effect elsewhere on the continent as a demonstration that despite Cuban revolution's influence, Fidel Castro's interference could be met with drastic countermeasures.

But Peru still has a long road to travel.

Not the least of its problems is strong resistance at the top levels of Peruvian society toward needed reforms. This resistance in itself has contributed to agitation among groups in which Castroism and communism are most influential, including intellectuals and students.

Much social legislation has gone into Peru's law books, but the population is a vast distance away from its minimum needs.

Paradoxically, Peru is rich. It has a large amount of national capital available for development of industry, which must accompany agricultural and other reforms if the reforms are to succeed at all.

Peru's own capitalists, however, seem intent upon superprofits without risk. Much of the capital which might go into economic growth is sunk into real estate speculation. Much goes out of the country for investment elsewhere. U. S. companies in Peru plow back a good portion of their profits into investment. As elsewhere in Latin America, U. S. employers pay the highest wages, afford best working conditions.

A trend is noticeable now, also, toward U. S. companies' assimilating themselves into Peru's national life. Some are incorporating as Peruvian companies, thus contributing to harmony. The alternative, some seem to reason, might be losing everything to a wave of revolution-born anti-Yankeeism.

Peru's problems are a dreary repetition of the old story in much of the continent: widespread poverty amidst riches, feudal habits of land ownership, lack of accommodation with the mid-20th cenguage. They do not participate much in the country's political life.

When constitutional government came in 1956 after the fall of Gen. Manuel Odría's dictatorship, only 13 per cent of the population voted in presidential elections. More than half that vote was in Lima.

New elections are coming up in 1962 for a president to succeed aristocratic Manuel Prado, 70. They will be held against a background of widespread fever for agrarian reform and for an attack on Peru's housing and other economic problems. The realization of these problems reaches the lowest economic level in the country.

And with the approach of the elections comes a test of the conservative sector's willingness to face facts.

To attack the housing and road problems the United States has offered $53 million in credits for specific projects. The United States has asked for a list of such projects.

There are signs the government is timid about it. The list might step on some Peruvian capitalist toes. But in the absence of the list, no money is advanced. And Peru's ruling politicians are using precious time in making up their minds.

Let's Not Get Test-Happy

The crowded condition of our colleges has alarmed some students who are pressing for admission. One harmful result seems to be an overemphasis in secondary schools on tests for college entry.

Here and there, authorities in education are beginning to worry that teachers in many places are thinking less about awakening young people to the wonders of knowledge than they are about preparing them for some test or other.

A recent study of testing programs, sponsored by several different groups of school officials, disclosed that there are more than 20 of the national variety.

Certain colleges of high reputation have, of course, always demanded good test scores for admission. Now, however, others which never before insisted on tests are doing so, hopeful that this is the path to greater prestige.

The whole thing is piling up new costs in education. A student may consume two dozen hours and $20 in fees in the testing process. Student counselors often spend so much time administering tests they lack sufficient time for counseling.

Numerous educators see in all this an unhappy trend, an unwise stress on "externals" at the expense of education's heart and substance—the arousing of student interest in the solid content of their studies.

They fear something else, too. The hammering on tests tends to sap the value of other factors to be weighed in judging a student's potential for college.

Things that need always to be considered, in educators' judgment, are a student's full record of scholastic performance, his character and temperament, his energy and industry, his will to achieve and to excel.

To hang everything on a test score, to orient the student, the teacher and perhaps even the school curriculum toward test preparation, is to take an extremely narrow view of the student's needs and of the meaning of education.

We should heed the warning of those who point out this danger. The schooling of our young is too important for us to take the surface signs for the substance.

Rules On Ethics for White House Staff

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It started with the maids and cooks and now it's all the way up to the generals.

President Kennedy last October laid down eight basic rules on morality and ethics in government which he said he would follow if elected.

One of them said no employee of the executive branch could use his official position for financial profit or personal gain.

Two days after taking office he set up a three-man committee to study ethical standards and practices in the government.

Then in February a former White House seamstress, Lillian Rogers Parks, came out with a book on her experiences in the executive mansion.

Kennedy's White House aides took steps to see that such a thing doesn't happen again.

The day before publication of the former seamstress' book, Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said all the present domestic and personal help at the White House had signed a pledge they will not write about their jobs.

Kennedy also laid down a rule about gifts to the White House but at this moment there's a little uncertainty about it.

This writer, hearing that any gift over $15 must be returned and any under that must be given to charity, asked Salinger if this is right.

He said it was. But another writer told Salinger he thought the rule was that any gift over $25 had to be turned over to the Smithsonian Institution.

Salinger said, come to think of it, maybe that was it. He said it was too late in the day to find out for sure.

But Monday Kennedy went far beyond all this.

Salinger told newsmen Kennedy intends to forbid officials of his administration to make speeches or write articles for pay unless they give it to charity.

And Salinger let it be known Kennedy intends to tighten up an old Pentagon directive to prevent members of the armed forces from cashing in on stories of their experiences, except after they retire.

There is such a ban now but there have been frequent exemptions. Salinger said the new policy will apply to all government people over whom the President has authority.

Kennedy also laid down a rule

Senate Lady Does Some Quizzing

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON —Charlie Meriwether, campaign manager for Gov. John Patterson of Alabama, now appointed director of the Export-Import Bank, got a thorough grilling by Senators Javits (N.Y.) and Proxmire (Wis.) during the hearings before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. They were especially interested in his association with the Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, Robert Shelton, who got a contract for $1,600,000 worth of tires from the state of Alabama, through Meriwether's office, after the Klan worked for Patterson's election.

The last Senator to cross-examine Meriwether was one of the newest and the second lady in history to be elected to that body, Mrs. Marjorie Neuberger of Oregon. Very deftly and quietly she got down to the question of whether a public relations man, with no banking experience, was really competent to handle the billions to be loaned by the Export-Import Bank.

"Several things have been brought out to my interest," said Sen. Neuberger. "One is the frequent use by the witness of the expressions 'Do not remember,' 'Heard rumors,' 'Do not think so,' 'Was there,' all through the questioning."

"At other places the nominee said he read something because it was about himself. A little bit later he said he did not always read things about himself. . . . consequently," continued Mrs. Neuberger, "I wonder about the qualifications in some ways for the position to which you are seeking appointment. You do not even remember some of the things of the campaign of 1960."

Mrs. Neuberger used to be a member of the Oregon legislature, knows government at the grass-roots level. With this background, she continued her cross-examination of the man nominated to one of the most important financial institutions in Washington.

Does He Know Banking?

"I just wondered why the Klan would be more interested in the election of Governor Patterson than in his opponents, she asked. Meriwether: Well, I do not believe it has been brought out that they were."

Sen. Neuberger: To my mind it has been brought out that the Klan actively supported Gov. Patterson, and if you support one it assumes that you are opposed to the other.

Meriwether: Well, of course that would assume that they all agreed. I do not know about that.

Sen. Neuberger: Of course all of the questioning today really purports to lead up to your ability to handle the $200,000 job as director of the Export-Import Bank. What do you conceive the role of this bank to be?

Meriwether: The information I have concerning the bank is its prime interest to facilitate exports — American exports, and exports to the U. S.

Sen. Neuberger: The loans of the bank—how do they figure in connection with private investment abroad?

Meriwether: Well, the law that I read that it was drawn under specifically said they were in no way to compete with private business, but facilitate and assist them.

Guest Editorial

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Outdoor Advertising Vs. Outdoors. — "Bigger than all outdoors" used to be a superlative of general application. The outdoor advertising industry appears bent on having it apply only to billboards.

The latest move in this direction is a request to the Federal Highway Administration to permit signs twice as large as currently allowed along the new interstate highway system.

The American Automobile Association is fighting against this proposed expansion from a 150, to a 300 square foot maximum for expressway signboards. Both logic and virtue (which have no lobbyists of their own) are at the AAA's side.

It was the intent of Congress in passing the interstate superhighway program that billboards should not beleague the sides of the new roads unless states were willing to pay a money penalty in order to assert their rights to allow unrestricted signs. The public is investing upward of 37 billion dollars in these new highways and it has a right to have its safety and scenery protected.

To permit blockbuster signs would be to go against the whole logic of the federal expressway program. The federal highway administrator should turn down the request for larger billboards without compromise.

Sen. Neuberger: Have you ever heard of the National Advisory Council on international and monetary funds?

Meriwether: M'am, only in a general way.

Sen. Neuberger: Do you conceive of any relation between the bank and the U.S. technical program?

Meriwether: I could not say whether they could use the bank or not. I do not know.

Lyndon Vs Dirksen

During the White House luncheon for Democratic and Republican leaders, GOP Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois did some gentle ribbing of his old friend, Vice President Lyndon Johnson, who once battled against him as Democratic leader but now is elevated to the Senate rostrum.

"Lyndon, I'm going to clobber you when I get back to the Senate on that Judgeship Bill," said Dirksen. "And you can't talk back. 'All you can do is chew off a couple of inches of that gavel.' The Vice President grinned."

Most people figured Dirksen was right, that the Judgeship Bill was being rushed through in too much of a hurry. However, the Vice President's party retaliated 48 hours later by overriding Dirksen's motion to delay, and passed the bill.

Washington Whirl

Sen. Steve Young of Ohio has proposed a way to muzzle the Admirals and Generals who yearn to make warlike speeches. He says it's very simple. Just knock all speech writers and public relations men off the public payroll. Without speech writers, says Sen. Young, most Admirals and Generals would be speechless. . . . President Kennedy bawled out his Press Secretary, Pierre Salinger, for telling newsmen that White House servants had signed oaths promising not to write inside stories about the Kennedys. The President didn't know the servants had been pressured to sign compulsory oaths, to which he's always been opposed. He wants the servants to respect his privacy, but wouldn't force them to sign anything.

'Don't Spare the Rod'

The hair brush, the paddle, the flat hand or anything else that might be handy to give junior a good spank when he needs it, has the approval of a prominent psychiatrist.

He says the three L's are as important in bringing up a child as the three R's and they are "Love, Limitations and Let Them Grow Up."

The hair brush comes in as an emergency measure in enforcement of limitations. "The spanking when necessary, should be given with an attitude of firm execution of justice, with perhaps a touch of justified indignation," said Dr. A. A. Chapman of the University.

He recommends a few don'ts. Don't threaten a child with loss of love, abandonment or physical mutilation. Don't use guilt slinging with such phrases as "What did I ever do to deserve a child like you?" Don't tell a child he is an inferior inadequate person.

According to Dr. Chapman the general theme should be "You are a good child, but you did a bad thing. I disapprove of what you did and I am punishing you for it."

There is a lot to be said for bringing a child up by the book but common sense and patience and treating the child as a human being, even when he is a little monster, punishing him when he deserves it, praising him when worthy, and loving him always with understanding and discipline is the responsibility and privilege of parenthood.

Bionics, Biomimesis

A plea for clarity of language on the part of scientists and science writers has been made by E. Gary Clark, research head of the Burroughs Corp.

"Let us strip the mystery away from science," says Mr. Clark. "Let us interpret scientific activities in words that other workers, and the public at large, can understand. Only when the scientific field has lost its self-created mystery will it have the understanding and complete support of the people at large."

What YOU Did

Again the American Red Cross has met the call for help with great credit to itself. Final figures on aid given during Hurricane Donna show that $2,200,000 was spent in the U.S. and Puerto Rico in extending a helping hand. Food, shelter and clothing was provided for 173,000 persons. Repair and rehabilitation of homes assisted 13,500 families.

Moulder May Be Chairman Of Important Committee

By Robert E. Hennessey
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — In the next Congress, Missouri's fifth district Representative Morgan M. Moulder is set to become chairman of the most controversial outfit in Washington — the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Congressman Francis Walter (D-Pa.), the 66-year-old present chairman, said this week that he would retire from the House after this term ends, Jan. 3, 1963.

This will leave Moulder as the ranking Democrat on the committee, which has an $800,000 budget, many friends and many enemies.

What affect is this change in the chairmanship likely to have on the committee, which for two decades has been in the thick of the communist expose?

Moulder himself does not anticipate making any basic policy changes. He says Walter has done "a good job" and has "pursued a good policy."

Moulder asserts that the committee's critics, notable of which is Congressman James Roosevelt of California, have "grossly misrepresented" it and he adds that their charges that the committee violates basic individual liberty is so much nonsense.

Roosevelt charged that the Un-American Activities Committee stages "road-shows" and has carted one witness to 11 different cities to give the same testimony "as new and revealing." The son of the former President said the committee "shows a perennial inability to do its job and do it fruitfully," and he urged that the committee's big appropriation be cut drastically.

When asked if he thought the committee's usual large appropriation would go through this time, Congressman Moulder speculated that there would be a roll call vote on the question and that only two congressmen — Roosevelt and newcomer William F. Ryan (D-N.Y.) — would oppose the committee.

When Moulder becomes chairman he intends to make a full-time job of it although he will retain his post on the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

Moulder indicated that because Chairman Walter has been such a busy man with work outside the committee the chairman has been forced to delegate too much committee work to the staff. "I would devote full-time to the committee," Moulder said.

Asked what affect his being on the controversial committee has had on his political situation back home, Moulder replied:

"I think an overwhelming majority of the people of the district favor the committee. But strangely enough I think (serving on it) has had an adverse effect."

Last fall Moulder barely squeaked through, defeating his Republican opponent by a mere 260 votes as against a victory margin of about 14,000 two years before. But in Presidential election years, Moulder usually has a hard time of it.

Lake several other Missouri congressmen, Moulder is uneasy these days as he awaits the outcome of congressional redistricting now going on in the Missouri legislature. The 11th now is about 100,000 people shy of what the average district will have after redistricting. And Missouri has to surrender one of its House seats.

So, if his district survives, and he survives the next Democratic primary and a battle with a Republican opponent in the general election — and if Walter retires as he plans — Moulder will take on an assignment that is a career in itself.

Bless Those Tax Dollars Spent to Protect Health

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

April is the time of the year when poets sing of the beauties of spring. And citizens look up from income tax forms just long enough to commit multiple fractures of the Third Commandment. As a pernickety cuss who is grateful to live in a democratic government and even more grateful to have an income on which to pay taxes, I thought this might be an ideal time to draw attention to some of the many hidden services rendered us by just one of our many federal agencies.

Here, for example, is a partial list of court actions taken on our behalf in a single month by the Federal Drug Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare:

Obtained consent to condemn a $500 "therapeutic vibrator" that played a tape recording of "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" while diagnosing and treating pathologic conditions of the head, lungs, heart, stomach, gall bladder, spleen, appendix and spine. To say nothing of cancer, cataracts and germ diseases.

Filed misbranding charges against a national distributor of food supplements for promoting the sale of an India-grown grass that purported "to keep men strong and virile until age 100 and women young and beautiful after they had passed 70 and even 80 years."

Obtained court orders to destroy a "sterile" eye preparation that was contaminated with live bacteria.

Seized and removed from the market $5 bottles of a sulfur bath preparation that promised relief for rheumatism, arthritis and skin diseases; herbal teas and tablets made from an Australian tree oil, offered as a cure for athlete's foot, sinus troubles, skin conditions, gingivitis, pyorrhea, typhoid fever, ulcers, bad breath and asthma; and capsules of a gelatin powder that promised to beautify hair, prevent nails from splitting and cracking, curb appetite, reduce weight and build blood.

Removed from the market and destroyed 310 tons of rodent and insect - contaminated cocoa products, flour, rice, dried peas, dried beans and popcorn; 52 tons of rodent-contaminated bulk wheat; 26 tons of canned tomatoes, catsup and puree, containing fly eggs and maggots; 23 tons of moldy, insect-infested nuts; 15 tons of spoiled frozen eggs; 262 tons of apple pomace that had an excessive amount of DDT; shipments of celery with unsafe amounts of pesticide; green coffee beans with wood splinters and filth, and fresh and processed cranberries with an excessive amount of weed killer.

Maybe you're in no mood to agree with me. But I'd say you and I got our money's worth out of the tax dollar that was spent this way.

Let People Decide

NOGALES, Ariz. — Peter Raptis Jr. can't make up his mind whether to try to be a state senator or county supervisor.

Hoping the voters will help him decide, he's circulating petitions for both offices.

"I'll make a choice," he said, "when petition filing time comes around and I see which petitions contain the most names."

Don't Misread Flattery As Child's Competition

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

I think that my 13-year-old daughter is jealous of me. I can't talk to her about it. It's always with my friends or neighbors. She'll interrupt their conversation with me and try to keep their attention by talking about her homework, her school friends — anything at all to stop me talking to them. A neighbor says she has a problem of "competitive-ness" with me.

ANSWER: Nonsense.

You're a woman. A child of 13 can't compete with you. To compete with someone, you have to be evenly matched.

But it's certainly interesting that you could consider it possible.

Why do you? Why do you see this behavior as hostile and jealous? Why haven't you seen that instead of "competing" with you, your daughter is flattering you? She isn't interested in cutting you out with your friends. She's interested in the approval of people for whom you feel friendship and respect.

That's not competition. It's trust of mother.

How quick we are to belittle our importance to children! Bud-where Kennedy's great-grandfather lived.

Kennedy in turn gave the ambassador for the people of County Wexford a piece of plank from the inaugural platform on which he took his oath as president Jan. 20.

The next day freshmen at Kennedy's old school, Harvard, which he has been denuding of professors to help him in the government, said they had bought a second-hand traditional Harvard chair and would send it to him.

They said they'd like it to stay in the White House so future presidents from Harvard could use it.

We, the Women

Dig Out Those Old Sacks And Snip 'Em Into Style

Don't look now but I think the designers are trying a sneak play to bring back the sack dress.

They're not calling it the sack (and to make it a little less sack-like they have taken in the seams a bit). But a sack by any other name is still a sack.

In fact, to keep from calling a sack a sack the designers and fashion writers are digging around in their dictionaries to come up with all kinds of descriptive phrases, such as "the fluid look," "relaxed silhouette," "the easy look," "simple, straight and loose."

But maybe this time we can play a sneaky trick on the designers. Do you have any of those sack dresses still hanging in your closet?

If you do—you're in. Just turn up the hems until you hit the most unbecoming length a woman can wear, take in the seams enough so that you fill the sack a wee bit more, and, voila, your sack will be right back in style. If you got rid of all your sack dresses when the sack was "definitely out," too bad. But that will teach you not to believe everything that simmers down to you from the fashion world.

They're a sneaky lot, those clothes designers, and the only way to outsmart 'em is outguess them—like figuring that the sack, instead of being as a dodo, would reappear—and saving your sacks for another day and another name.

Blue, Gold Banquet Held By Pack 65

Cub Scout Pack 65 held its Blue and Gold banquet in the education building of the Broadway Presbyterian Church Monday night at 6:30 p.m. It was a contributive basket dinner.

Members and guests were seated at two long tables, each den having their own centerpieces with matching place cards.

Besides regular members visitors present were, Jimmy Mitchell, Carol Pugh, Mrs. Kenneth Manns, Mrs. George A. Hazel and Gertrude, Jack Blackwell of the District Organization and Extension committee, and Mrs. George Richardson, Windsor.

The invocation was given by William O. Hiatt, Jr., District chairman of Pettis and Saline counties.

The program consisted of adult guests judging the articles made by the Cub Scouts and their parents from the genius kits. Prizes were awarded to all the boys with first prize going to Joe Bill Rains, who had an attractive cradle made from a tin can, cloth, etc. Second went to Robert Meyer for a boat and third to Edwin Ady for a train engine.

Mr. Hiatt showed a film he had taken of the National Scout Jamboree held in Colorado Springs last July.

Mr. Blackwell presented the 1961 Pack 65 Charter to Carl Meyer, committee chairman. He also presented cards to the following: Cub Master, Donald Griffith, assistant cub master, Charles Hanning accepted by Mrs. Hanning, treasurer, Edward N. Ady, committeemen, A. N. Salmons, John (Bud) Brown and Joe Rains, accepted by Mrs. Rains, Den Mothers, Viola Hiatt, Evelyn Ady and Dixie Cardwell and Thelma Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meyer received training cards from the January Round table as did George Hazel Jr. for Den Chief training.

The following cub scout awards were made by Donald Griffith, cub master. One year service pins, Edward and Edwin Ady and Dale Wimer; bear badge, Robert Meyer; gold arrow on bear, David Salmons and Donald Griffith; silver arrow on bear, Tommy Brown and Donald Griffith.

Kenny Manns of Scout Troop 50 received a Den Chief card for Den 4, Pack 65.

The pack also received a purple ribbon for getting their registration in on time and Den 2 again won the perfect attendance plaque.

Camp Branch Club Plans Chili Supper

The Camp Branch Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Elmer Bullard with 15 members and three visitors, Mrs. Elden Arnett, Mrs. Frank McKinney and Miss Louise Poppinga, present.

Mrs. Jack Stevens presided in the absence of the president. The devotional was presented by Mrs. Paul Neitzert.

The group voted to have a chili supper on March 17 at the Ulmer's Cabin on Route B.

Mrs. Ted Kerns gave a talk on health and safety. Mrs. John Billings gave a report on social security. Mrs. Leroy Ryan and Mrs. John Butterwick gave a lesson on clothing. Mrs. Elmer Bullard received the hostess gift.

Secret pal gifts were received by Mrs. Bert Stevens and Mrs. John Butterwick. A game was played with the prize going to Mrs. Leonard Knoerschild.

A flower seed exchange was held. The handicraft teacher, Mrs. Sam Templeton, gave a lesson on aluminum.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Butterwick, Route 4, at which time a pot holder exchange will be held.

Navy Reservist On 2-Weeks Training

Bobbie D. Lee, 2011 South Engineer, a Machinists Mate First Class in the Navy Reserve, left Kansas City by plane Saturday for San Francisco where he boarded the destroyer, USS Laws, at Treasure Island for a two-week training cruise in the Pacific.

Lee is one of 40 officers and men of fleet division 9-13 who drill one weekend a month at the Naval Reserve training center in Kansas City.

With each man a petty officer, they form a destroyer crew nucleus which would be expanded in wartime to man the whole ship.

Lee and his shipmates will visit Long Beach, Calif. next week when the Laws puts into port after cruising off the Pacific coast. They fly home, arriving in Kansas City March 17.

Girl Hopes to Hand-feed Shark Before TV Audience

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — "The shark is a much maligned creature," said Judy Joye, one of America's top girl skin divers.

"Dogs are far more dangerous than sharks. You are much more likely to be bitten by a dog."

To prove her point the intrepid Miss Joye, a glamorous brunette who doubles as a model and underwater stunt swimmer, hopes to become the first woman in history to hand-feed a shark for a television audience.

Her performance will be featured on "Marineland Circus," an NBC-TV color program Sunday, April 2.

"So far as I know I'll not only be the first woman ever to try to hand-feed a shark — but the first woman ever to want to," she remarked blithely.

Judy, who has plunged to 130 feet and is one of the nation's few feminine welders on underwater salvage jobs, is full of facts and figures on shark lore.

A big danger, she said, is that some of the seven million U.S. skin divers have taken to trying to hitchhike rides on the backs of sharks, or playfully tweaking their tails.

"It has become a kind of sport with them. They have the idea sharks are tame," she said.

"They're not tame, and they don't like having their tails tweaked. They can be provoked to attack."

But Judy pointed out that in 1959 only 10 unprovoked shark attacks, resulting in three deaths, had been recorded in American waters. The world total for the same year: 36 unprovoked attacks, 13 deaths.

"Sharks always deserve the utmost respect," she said. "But they are basically scavengers who prefer dead or dying game, and don't like to attack anything that will put up a real fight — unless they are desperate."

"They are extremely curious and will follow a skin diver for a whole day just to see what he is doing. They don't have much else to do," she said.

"But if you ignore the shark, he'll usually ignore you."

What if he doesn't? Here are Miss Joye's tips to avoid troubles with sharks of all kinds:

"Try to look as much like a human being and as little like a fish as possible. The shark doesn't really like the taste of people. He prefers the taste of fish, which has been his diet for millions of years."

"If he bites you, it is probably in error — he has mistaken you for a fish."

"Therefore avoid swimming in cloudy water where the visibility is low."

"If a shark approaches too near, wave your arms and legs vigorously and yell. Pick up a couple of rocks and knock them together."

"Usually this sound will drive him away. Then head for shallow water."

"If he still comes toward you and you can't make it to shore, swim straight toward him, yelling as loud as you can, and hit him on the nose, his most sensitive spot."

"Better use a rock if one is handy. His skin is tough, and if you strike him with your fist it is like hitting wet sandpaper."

"If he circles back to attack, dive to the bottom. Nine out of 10 times sharks attack on the surface."

"But 80 per cent of the time you can predict what sharks will do. The other 20 per cent —" she left the thought unfinished.

Judy's final advice to skin divers:

"Let the shark alone. Don't try to toy with him. Don't try to tweak his tail. He simply doesn't like it. It insults his dignity."

Mrs. Elmer Kerfoot gave an interesting and informative talk on Social Security. Civil Defense was also discussed.

Mrs. Mary Carroll gave the lesson on Children's Clothing.

The meeting was an all day meet with a luncheon served at the noon hour.

Minutes of the meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Butterwick, Route 4, at which time a pot holder exchange will be held.

Ladies Aid of Grace Lutheran Holds Meet

The Ladies Aid of Grace Lutheran Church of Buncheon, met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Roehrs.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Leonard Schmidt. The devotional was given by Mrs. Roehrs. It was decided to donate $10 to the Children's Home.

The program closed with the Lord's Prayer and the group spent the afternoon quilting and working on tea towels.

Refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour. Present were the following members and visitors, Mrs. Leonard Schmidt, Mrs. Edwin Hein, Mrs. Walter Schmidt, Mrs. Fred Bosau, Mrs. Henry Frieling, Mrs. Floyd Hein, Mrs. John Schmidt, Johnny Jr. and Denise and Mrs. Charles Roehrs, Mrs. Roehrs' grandmother, Mrs. Lula Wilson and Miss Emma Lee Kurtz.

Burglars Find No Loot So Play Short Game of Basketball

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Burglars who broke into a junior high school here didn't get any loot, but police say they got a lot of exercise.

Police said burglars removed a skylight and dropped into a rest-room, only to find an inside door locked. They crawled back out, scaled a porch, jumped to a gymnasium roof, forced open another skylight, climbed to a basketball backboard and dropped into the gym.

They didn't find anything worth stealing, so they played basketball awhile and left.

Things Getting Gummed Up In Drive to Close Fields

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Things are getting so gummed up in the late-hour drive to close the fields for the two major college basketball tournaments that even usually anxious coaches are saying "no" and conferences are having coin-flipping playoffs to determine where game playoffs will be staged.

Officials of the National Invitation Tournament are hectoring scanning the list of available for a replacement for a defending champion they thought they had signed, sealed and delivered. Tournament controllers of the NCAA championships are puzzling over a 24-team lineup that is only two-thirds completed with the start of scrambling only a week away.

The NIT got a startling refusal Monday from defending champion Bradley, which said no, thanks, after a long meeting of school officials and a comment from Coach Ozzie Orsborn, to wit: "We aren't playing well enough to be a credit to the tournament."

High-ranked nationally all season, and regular season play completed at 21-5, the NIT was figured ready to make Bradley top-seeded for defense of its championship in the Madison Square Garden tourney opening March 16.

With the Braves not interested, the NIT lineup stands at 11. Memphis State, Providence, DePaul, Detroit, Army, Miami of Florida, Dayton, Temple, Niagara, and Holy Cross, which accepted Monday, are definite. The 11th spot will go to the loser of the Colorado State U-Utah clash for the Skyline Conference title and NCAA berth on Saturday. Who is no. 12?

Maybe Duquesne, maybe LaSalle, maybe NYU — the NIT wasn't saying as of early today.

The NCAA lineup remains full of vacancies—with three at-large teams and five conference representatives still to be determined.

Monday night, New Mexico State featuring Hardin-Simmons 88-72 and forcing a playoff with Arizona State U. for the Border Conference berth. They'll flip a coin to decide where and when the playoff will be held.

Work also began Monday night on unraveling the three-team tangle in the Ohio Valley Conference. Morehead of Kentucky, with Granville Williams' 26 points helping overcome a 10-point halftime deficit, beat Eastern Kentucky 55-54. That eliminated Eastern but Morehead now advances to a showdown playoff with Western Kentucky at Louisville on Wednesday. That finally will decide what had wound up in a three-way tie on Saturday in the OVC.

Another NCAA berth could be determined tonight. Loyola of Los Angeles can become the West Coast Athletic Conference champ, undisputed, by licking Pepperdine. If Loyola loses, San Francisco (playing at Santa Clara) could still tie and there would have to be another playoff.

Fortunately, a couple games Monday night were played just for the spirit of the game—no tournament overtures, no if or maybe technicalities.

Louisville and Marquette, a pair of NCAA at-large teams, warmed up for next week's action with the Louisville Cardinals scoring a 75-50 romp. John Turner hit 7-10 from outside, now 19-7, broke a three-game losing streak. Don Kojis' 17 points were tops for Marquette, now 14-10.

In the Big Ten, Michigan State had five players in double figures, topped by Jack Lamers' 21, in a 74-64 upset of Iowa; Walt Bellamy scored 27 points and picked off a school record 28 rebounds in Indiana's 80-69 victory over Wisconsin; and John Tidwell closed his home Wolverine career with 24 points as Michigan upset Illinois 74-66.

Kansas (17-7) kept alive its chances of tying NCAA-bound Kansas State for the Big Eight title, running its record to 10-3 as Wayne Hightower hit 23 points and Bill Bridges 19 in an 85-75 decision over Iowa State. Joe Scott's school record 46 points featured Missouri's 97-76 rout of Nebraska, and Colorado handed Oklahoma its seventh straight loss, 52-45.

The Medics

Medics Split For Main Mat Bouts

Are they as good individually as they are as a team?

That's a question that should get at least a partial answer tonight at Convention Hall when the Masked Medics abandon their usual team role and go it alone.

One of them is pitted against rowdy Bulldog Henning and the other against Stan Stasiak in the double main event.

It will mark a departure for the masked pair, which has established itself as one of the best teams in this area.

Both Henning and Stasiak are rugged veterans of the pro ranks and both use hard-hitting, iron-fisted methods, figuring the faster the attack and the stronger force behind it, the quicker victory comes.

How well the Medics do may be decided upon how well they are able to adapt themselves to the best of three falls, 60-minute route, without being able to count upon one another. Both Henning and Stasiak, who do some team grappling, usually go it alone.

And both have staying power. The Medics are used to helping one another and have rarely had to go the distance as singles.

Lorraine Johnson, the blonde beauty queen of the pro mat world, will lead the gai wrestlers into action. The curvy Minnesota miss will join with tough Jessica Rogers to take on equally rugged Millie Stafford and her capable partner, Judy Glover.

In the 8:15 opener, Taro Myaki and Pepper Perez will provide the action, with the Oriental expected to show some of the new offensive measures he's picked up lately.

Dupas Eying Nontitle Bout With Kid Parat

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Classy welterweight contender Ralph Dupas today eyed a nontitle bout with champion Benny (Kid) Parat after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over middleweight Joey Giardello.

The fast-moving New Orleans fighter swiftly moved out of reach of Giardello's famed left hook and threw quick left-right-left combinations in rapid succession to bewilder the Philadelphia Monday night.

Dupas, the third-ranked welterweight, weighed in at 149, spotting Giardello, who's ranked fifth among middleweights, 11 pounds. Whitey Esneault, Dupas' manager, said he wanted to sign his classy protege for a nontitle match with Parat. He declined to discuss any details of a proposed bout with the welterweight titlist.

The win was the 87th triumph against 14 losses and six draws for the 25-year-old Dupas. Giardello now has 84 victories, 20 defeats and six draws.

UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT

DUNN, N. C. (P) — William David Lee, 20, pleaded guilty to charges of drunken driving and Judge Woodrow Hill not only revoked his license but said Lee could not even ride in a motor vehicle for five years.

Judge Hill said if Lee wanted transportation he could use a horse and buggy or catch a train. Lee also was fined $100 and given a six-month suspended jail term.

Court records indicated Lee had been arrested four times for careless or reckless driving, once for speeding, once for public drunkenness and disorderly conduct and once for trespassing—all in a four year span.

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors already has broken two National Basketball Association scoring records he set last year and by the time the regular season ends next Sunday he probably will be the first player in league history to go over the 3,000 mark.

Official league statistics released today showed Chamberlain with 2,917 points in 76 games for a 38.4 average. Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers was far back in second place with 2,403 and an average of 34.8.

Chamberlain also has collected 2,068 rebounds, a league record.

The Boston Celtics, who have clinched the Eastern Division title, did not have a player among the first 10 scoring leaders. Nor did they have a player among the top five field-goal percentage leaders.

Ohio State Undisputed Cage Champ

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State is the undisputed national college basketball leader for the 1960-61 season, dominating The Associated Press poll as no other team has ever done.

The undefeated Buckeyes, with a 28-game winning streak dating back to the late stages of the previous campaign, were a unanimous choice today in the final standings.

This marked the 13th straight week they had been the solid choice of the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters. They led the poll every week—from the first to the last, an unprecedented achievement.

The season's race actually became one for second place and another Ohio team—Cincinnati—pulled that out with a great finishing spurt of its own.

The Cincinnati team closed its regular schedule on an 18-game winning streak which clinched the Missouri Valley championship from under the nose of Bradley. Cincinnati beat Marshall Saturday 69-57 while Bradley was losing to St. Louis 73-60.

St. Bonaventure, beaten by Duquesne in overtime, dropped to third place in the final standings, followed in order by Kansas State, North Carolina, Bradley, Southern California, Iowa, West Virginia and Duke.

The top ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8, etc. basis:

1. Ohio State (36) 360
2. Cincinnati 313
3. St. Bonaventure 250
4. Kansas State 204
5. North Carolina 173
6. Bradley 132
7. Southern California 102
8. Iowa 95
9. West Virginia 66
10. Duke 64

Others receiving votes: Utah, Texas Tech, Niagara, Memphis State, Wake Forest, St. John's, St. Joseph's (Pa.), Drake, Holy Cross, Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Louisville, Mississippi State, UCLA, St. Louis, Indiana.

Ingo's Final Countdown Is Wednesday

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Ingemar Johansson's private countdown had reached two today, meaning that Wednesday will be his final workout for his title quest against heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in Miami Beach Monday night.

After Wednesday Ingo will just sit tight, girding his strength to regain the crown.

He made several things clear after Monday's workout, during which he again boxed a total of six rounds with three sparring partners.

Johansson said Patterson won't clip him with a left hook as he did in knocking Ingemar out in their second meeting last June.

He said he was caught inexplicably motionless in midring, right hand raised in sort of a salute. It won't happen again, he promised.

He also declared his right hand will shoot out so fast that if he misses with it, Patterson won't have time to cross a left over it before he closes in.

Ingemar also confirmed what many thought they had noticed. He is fighting lower now.

"That way when a guy rushes you, you can withstand the charge, and not be carried backward," he explained.

The burly Swede said he had no apprehensions about being knocked cold again; that he has no mental block that would prevent him from turning loose with his right for fear of a quick reprisal.

Shaw Fires Broadside

Baseball Contract Disputes Are Becoming Much Louder

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball's contract disputes are becoming louder. Pitcher Bob Shaw fired a broadside at the Chicago White Sox Monday and the Milwaukee Braves sounded an ultimatum to outfielder Wes Covington.

Shaw told The Associated Press "If the White Sox don't want me, I don't want the White Sox—I've yielded as much as I intend to. I'm ready to be traded."

General Manager John McHale of the Braves said in response to Covington's rejection of the club's latest proposal: "He had his chance. We've done our part."

McHale said Covington, 29, accompanied his latest refusal with a suggestion "nothing short of amazing."

"He not only wanted the same pay as for his poor 1960 campaign (.249 with 10 homers and 35 RBI) but said we could cut if he didn't have a good year. 'That's against baseball rules,'" McHale said.

Shaw, 27, who compiled an 18-6 regular-season record and won one World Series game for the 1959 American League champions slumped to 13-13 last year. He said, "Not only do I refuse to take a cut, I think I deserve a raise."

The right-hander said he is basing his holdout siege on two factors: he didn't get enough money after his big year in 1959, and he feels he deserves a raise on his prospective value to the club in 1961.

"I'm in good shape. I've been working out, I know I can win 18 games this year if they give me a chance. Feeling this way, I'd be foolish to cheapen myself by accepting their terms," which call for a 21 per cent cut according to Shaw.

At the training camps, many teams took the day off or held workouts instead of intra-squad games. Harmon Killebrew hit four out of the park—three in succession — during the Minnesota Twins' practice session.

Praise fell on a couple of young pitchers as Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson took a good look at trade acquisition Joey Jay, while youngsters Al Pehanick and Terry Fox drew plaudits after Detroit's workout.

Jay, touched for a run in the first inning, bore down. With Dave Stenhouse he limited the opposition to five hits in a six-inning intra-squad affair.

Joe was loose, changed up well and was able to hum the fast ball when the occasion demanded," beamed Hutchinson.

Tiger Manager Bob Scheffing, a catcher in his playing days, caught right-hander Al Pehanick, then remarked, "I like what I've seen of him so far. He has a great side-arm motion." Coach Tom Ferrick was just as enthusiastic about Terry Fox, citing his "good stuff."

Some New Marks

Big Eight Cage Has New Member of '1,000 Club'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Eight Conference basketball has a new member of the "1,000 Club," three new individual scoring records and a new team scoring record today.

The new marks came in conference play Monday night as Kansas defeated Iowa State 85-75 at Ames and Missouri blasted Nebraska 97-76 in Columbia.

Bill Bridges of Kansas scored 19 points to become the 19th member of the "1,000 club." With one game to go—against Missouri at Columbia Saturday—the 6-6 senior from Hobbs, N.M., has a career total of 1,012 points.

Henry Whitney, 6-7 senior from Brooklyn, N.Y., got himself an Iowa State record in his final collegiate game. Big Henry scored 34 points for a total of 259 in 14 conference games. That tops the 248 by Cyclone Chuck Duncan in 1955.

At Columbia, Skinny Joe Scott, a 6-4 senior who hasn't had the season expected of him, set an individual scoring record for a Tiger player by hitting 46 points against Nebraska.

Scott's 18 field goals also is a single game record for a Missouri player. Lionel Smith held the previous Tiger records of 44 points and 17 fielders, set against Marquette in 1957.

The 97-point total was the highest ever by a Missouri team in their own fieldhouse, topping their 96 against Oklahoma in 1955.

In another conference game at Norman, Colorado handed the Oklahoma Sooners their seventh successive loss, 52-45.

Wayne Hightower, who joined the "1,000 Club" earlier this season, was Kansas' leading scorer with 23 points against Iowa State.

Missouri's Charles Henke, who is the No. 4 scorer in Big Eight history and has a 25 point average this season, helped Scott with 21 points Monday night.

Colorado, playing without injured ace Wilky Gilmore, had a tough time with Oklahoma before pulling away. Roger Voss and Ken Charlton each scored 14 for the Buffaloes.

In reshuffling the standings a bit Colorado moved into a third-place tie with Oklahoma State at 7-6. Missouri (6-7) took over fifth place.

Iowa State finished its season 6-8 in the Big Eight and 12-13 for the season. Nebraska finished 4-10 and 10-14.

Kansas (9-3) have a mathematical chance of sharing the title with K-State. To do that, the Jayhawks will have to beat Missouri and Kansas State will have to lose to Colorado Saturday.

Oklahoma State and Oklahoma complete their schedules at Norman Thursday.

Garry Moore Show Rates Top Listing

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are at home and watching television tonight, the program you are most likely to see is "The Garry Moore Show."

As for the other six days of the week, here is the most-popular lineup, according to the most recent survey of the American Research Bureau:

Wednesday—Perry Como.
Thursday—"The Untouchables."
Friday—"The Flintstones."
Saturday—"Gunsmoke."
Sunday—Ed Sullivan.

Monday—Andy Griffith.
Sometimes, in the ratings battle, "Candid Camera" nudges Sullivan out of Sunday night's No. 1 place. Sometimes Danny Thomas tops Andy Griffith on Monday night.

On most Thursday nights ABC's "The Untouchables," the Prohibition era crime-buster series, rides off with the evening's honors. However, last week, the Bob Hope special on NBC, "Twenty-five Years of Life" had more than twice as many viewers as the action series, a special ARB sampling indicated.

The competitive network, however, did not take the beating without an explanation: Thursday night's "Untouchables" was a rerun of "The Rusty Heller Story" slipped into the schedule to make it eligible for an Emmy award.

Commercial spokesmen and spokeswomen are unhappy about the new stiff rules of many sponsors about "exclusivity." One big soap and detergent manufacturer will not allow a TV salesman of its wash-day products to sell the bar soap of a rival company. Its attitude is that soap is soap.

However, there's still a pretty penny to be made in suds. One actress contributed a day's work to making a commercial, and so far has collected $12,000 for its repeated use—and the end isn't yet in sight.

Some others, however, haven't been so lucky. One big TV advertiser made 64 different commercials, paying its pitchmen minimum union wages. After tests in regional markets, only 12 commercials survived for network and general use, where the profits lie.

NBC is preparing to bite the hand that feeds it—the Old West. On March 29 it will present a Project 20 special called "The Real West," and, with Gary Cooper as narrator, expose the glamorous gunslingers, fastest guns and frontier Robin Hoods as, to quote the author, Phil Reisman, "a pack of ambush artists and sneak thieves."

Recommended tonight: "After Hours," NBC, 10-11 (EST)—repeat of a comedy starring Christopher Plummer and Sally Ann Howes.

Georgia Legalizes Fishing On Sunday

ATLANTA (AP)—The Georgia Legislature has passed a bill to legalize fishing on Sundays after Sen. Erwin Owens of Dahlonega said Sunday was the "only day I have to relax and go fishing with my kids."

In addition, Owens said he wanted the bill adopted because many tourists going through Georgia on Sundays "stop to eat at picnic tables beside a stream, throw out a hook, and a sheriff comes along and fines them $25."

Predict Another Summer Day For Florida Coast

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Weather Bureau predicted another day of summer weather for Florida's Gulf Coast today—the type that has brought record-shattering temperatures to Tampa, St. Petersburg and Sarasota.

The temperature reached 88 at Sarasota and St. Petersburg Monday, one degree under readings in the two cities on Saturday and Sunday. Tampa had a maximum of 86 degrees after two consecutive days of 88-degree weather.

At St. Petersburg, heat, drought and seasonal population increase produced a city ban on lawn sprinkling.

Young Writer Is Different In Meaning

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—As an irate young playwright, Arnold Wesker is different. His meaning is clear.

The 28-year-old Englishman makes his point with dramatic and fiery directions in "Roots" which opened Monday night at the new Mayfair Theater. The script, which last season won a citation from London's drama critics, is the first Wesker work produced in this country.

Dissatisfied with the contemporary world, the author makes the play a plea for people to snap out of passive contentment and learn to think, argue—and most of all, talk to each other. This way, he urges, lies salvation.

Having a natural instinct for theatrical device and an ability to form characters with dialogue, Wesker surrounds his message with a lot of lively and engaging stage business.

The action is set in England's rural north country and concerns a daughter who comes home after a London interlude of awakening.

Mary Doyle, who hails from Lincoln, Neb., portrays the girl with disarming quiet which soars into impassioned intensity in the fiery third act.

With her are several other performers under Mark Rydell's direction who pierce to the heart of roles with appealing impact. Among them are Katherine Squire, William Hansen, Stefan Gierasch and Gene Wilder. Their efforts at Norfolk dialect waver, but the scratchy surface is solidly based.

Another new playwright, Algirdas Landsbergis, is getting a first hearing in another just-arrived production, "Five Posts in the Market Place," at the Gate Theater.

Landsbergis, uprooted by war from his homeland of Lithuania, tells of last-ditch guerrilla resistance as a totalitarian power overruns a small nation. The focus is blurred, the language forced—but "Five Posts" exhibits signs of promising talent.

Keenly on the beam in scene and talk, by contrast, is a third fresh entry spotlighting authorship—"The Death of Bessie Smith" by Edward Albee.

The short play is a new companion on the York program to Albee's "The American Dream," which won loud cheers in recent debut. Two other items were tried and found wanting on the bill earlier, but "Bessie Smith" rings the bell.

The death of the famous Negro blues singer in 1937 serves Albee merely as a point of departure to limn his own creation—a virago nurse of racial and personal viciousness.

Actress Rae Allen is impressive in the bravura assignment. The Albee pair form a must-see imperative of the show season.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher, at the bedside of his ill wife, actress Elizabeth Taylor, in London, is the subject of a $1,400,000 suit.

Ramrod Productions, Inc., which contends it has exclusive rights to Fisher's services, brought the action Monday against RKO-General, Inc.

The suit says that under an agreement signed June 5, 1956, Ramrod lent Fisher's services to RKO for "Bundle of Joy" on condition that the movie not be televised for five years. Last November and December, the complaint adds, the defendants broadcast the film in violation of the agreement.

Panel Discussion Held On School Tax Levy

Homeless Men In Oregon Out of Luck

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—There is an army of homeless men here. Most don't even have pennies in their pockets. Many sleep these winter nights beneath bridges and in box cars.

The Oregon Public Welfare Commission says it cannot help, because its policy now forbids, as it has for 14 years, giving welfare aid to single, able-bodied men.

There have been other winters like this for men with no homes, no jobs, but it seems particularly acute now, for there is heavy unemployment in Portland.

How many of these men are there now? Hundreds, says James Guinan, a staff worker at the Stella Maris House, a community house operated by the Roman Catholic Church.

Guinan told the welfare commission he found hundreds of men lining up each day for free meals at charity kitchens. In one small sampling of 30 men waiting to be fed, Guinan found 15 who had no place to sleep. Several told him they hadn't slept in a bed for several years.

Private charities here can provide only a few beds, Guinan said. Boxcars are a favorite sleeping place, he said. So is the damp ground beneath approaches to bridges that span the Willamette River.

If a homeless man has a little money, Guinan said, he will often sleep in an all-night theater.

One newsman found two men huddled out of the rain beneath a loading ramp at a warehouse. "We're waiting for the freight to Spokane," one said. "We're not tramps. We're from Minnesota and we're looking for work. My cousin here is a construction worker and I'm a truck driver. Things are bad."

Welfare Administrator Jeanne Jewett said it is a problem for the entire state, for these men form a labor pool needed every year at harvest time. Commissioner Joseph E. Harvey Jr. said the commission will try to work out some kind of a program if the legislature will appropriate some money.

Meanwhile, cold March rain continued to fall here.

Still Grave, Liz Rallies At Hospital

LONDON (AP)—Still gravely ill, Elizabeth Taylor rallied today after blood transfusions and was reported "breathing quietly and peacefully."

A bulletin from the 29-year-old film beauty's bedside said she was "definitely improving" although the "general situation remains grave."

Haggard from worry and lack of sleep, singer Eddie Fisher, 31, for the third night remained near his wife's bedside in the exclusive clinic in the heart of London. Two doctors were in the sickroom throughout the night.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Taylor, also spent the night at the clinic.

The actress was seen this morning by her full medical team of six doctors.

They issued this bulletin: "After a restless night with high temperatures her condition is definitely improving this morning and she is breathing quietly and peacefully although the general situation remains grave."

A second breathing effort, Dr. Robert Beaver, was called in to aid the actress, who underwent an emergency tracheotomy Saturday. A breathing tube inserted in her throat then and an electronic lung are helping keep her alive.

At one period Monday night Miss Taylor's strength ebbed, but she rallied after being given blood transfusions for her anemic condition.

An emergency shipment of an antitoxin to prevent the spread of the pneumonia infection was rushed by jetliner from the United States to aid the drunette beauty in her fight against pneumonia complicated by anemia. But after its arrival, a medical spokesman said a new British gamma globulin—probably would be used instead.

Suzanne Cardozo, a personal friend of the star, said after a visit to the clinic this morning that Miss Taylor "is still critically ill but she is sleeping."

When Miss Taylor reached a low point Monday evening, one of her doctors, Dr. Carl Heinz Goldman, said "we are very worried."

But the blood transfusions gave her added strength.

Under sedation, she frequently lapsed into unconsciousness. But she was able to recognize her husband.

The breathing tube kept her from speaking but she managed to scribble a note: "How am I getting along?"

"Just fine," Fisher told her with a comforting smile.

In another note she asked, "How are the children?"

He answered her with a reassuring smile.

The film beauty has two sons by her second husband, Michael Wilding, and a daughter, Liza, by her third husband, the late Mike Todd.

Chief Talks On Bicycle Safety Plan

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin was the speaker at the March meeting of the Sedalia Council of Parent-Teacher Associations held at the First Baptist Church. Chief Hamlin discussed "Bicycle Safety" in keeping with the March program topic: "Quest for the Best in Safety."

Chief Hamlin was introduced by Mrs. Myron Lindquist. A general discussion period followed in which ways of improving the bicycle safety habits of children were discussed. It was decided that Mrs. George Chamberlin would meet with the safety chairmen from each unit at a later date.

Mrs. Frank Sellers, Broadway PTA gave the devotional. She compared the third knot tied by a surgeon for extra safety to the extra kindness and deeds people do for others. She closed with prayer. Mrs. Chamberlin, president, presided over the business meeting and asked the magazine chairman of each unit to work especially hard this month to reach the goal for National Parent-Teacher magazines. She, also, said the School of Instructions will be held Wednesday, April 5, at the First Baptist Church. This is to be an all day meeting with registration starting at 9:30 a.m. There will be a contributive dinner at noon. This is for all PTA members and is held each year to train those who are new officers and chairmen. It is important that all new officers and chairmen from all units attend, she said. A state chairman will speak at the morning session. Mrs. Murrell Elson, Miami, district president, urged members to read the digest of President Kennedy's new school aid program in the March issue of the National Parent-Teacher and write their preference to Washington, D. C. Mrs. Ralph Rohrbach spoke on the bill concerning the publishing of juvenile court records. Mrs. Claude Lambirth reminded those present that the vote on the county health nurse would be coming up March 21. Mrs. Chamberlin announced that the Council executive meeting will be held March 29.
